IT'S A GIRL! Lexie Lauren, the daughter of Shelley Rowan and Arnold Watchamker, arrived in Elk Point on Monday, January 2 at 4:40 a.m., weighing an even 8 pounds. The new arrival has two sisters and four brothers, and is from Long Lake. Congratulations and a welcoming gift were delivered by Lois Sharek (left) and Genny Shmyr of the Elk Point OORP Lodge.

Town agrees to ambulance contract

Elk Point Town Council passed a resolution last week to enter into an operating contract with Elk Point and District Ambulance, under which the ambulance operator Fred Lambright will be subsidized up to a maximum of $4500 per month.

The subsidy is calculated on the monthly revenue earned by the ambulance company in the month preceding the payment. If the company earns $7500 or less, the payment would be $4500. If it earns between $7500 and $12,000, the payment would be reduced by the amount earned over $7500, and if it earns more than $12,000, no subsidy would be paid for that month.

The contract has now been forwarded to the County of St. Paul for their approval. The County has agreed to share with the Town to subsidize the service.

Danyluk elected regional board chair

By Rob Desjardins
Staff Writer

Ray Danyluk has been elected as the first chairperson of the St. Paul's new regional school division.

Danyluk is the former chair of the county school board, one of four jurisdictions combined in the new regional division.

He will share the position with former St. Paul public board chairman Conrad Richard. In an agreement reached during the regional board's first meetings Tuesday, Richard will take the chair after

Chamber AGM set for Feb. 1

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce started off the new year with planning for their 1995 Annual Meeting, which was set for Wednesday, February 1 at 6:30 p.m. A variety of suggestions for guest speaker were put forward, and these will guide the executive in determining who the speaker will be. A nomination committee consisting of Past President Millie Orr, Mel Ryks and Lang Ellison will be seeking out names for the new executive which will take office at the Annual Meeting.

The Chamber will send representatives to an upcoming demonstration by Bill Foster of the North East Marketplace regarding computerized information which can be loaded onto computer and upgraded frequently, regarding items which can be obtained in the region, rather than looking outside of the area for suppliers. Everything from paper clips to industrial equipment parts is included in the inventory, aimed at keeping and promoting business within northeast Alberta. The Chamber will have to look at where their computer should be housed, for maximum public exposure to the available information at such time as the Marketplace information and possibly also the government tender network are available on it.

The Chamber agreed to support in principle the Friends of the Fort in their initiative to obtain a grant from the Northern Alberta Agreement for additional signage at the fort site. A letter of support will be provided.

The excellent work of the Town of Elk Point's Public Works crew in taking care of recent snowfalls was noted, and the Chamber agreed to send a letter of appreciation to them.

Town considers reducing size of Council

The Town of Elk Point is considering reducing the size of their Council to five members from seven, as of next October's general election. Council voiced their opinions on the change at last Monday's meeting, with three firmly in favor of the reduced size, three against and one of the new members totally undecided.

Councillor Dan Povaschuk said that in addition to reducing the size of Council, he would also like to see the mayor elected by the councillors from among their number.

Mayor Ed Buck is also in favor of the 5-member Council, but feels that a separate election for mayor is necessary because it is "more competitive." Buck said the workload is smaller now than in the past and he would have "no qualms" about reducing Council. "We're policy makers. We have to let the administration do the administration."

One difficulty that could arise because of a reduced size would be that a by-election would have to be held if one member of the five resigned, unless it were in the final 12 months of their term.

Administrator Curt Svendsen was directed to draft a bylaw providing for the reduction of Council to five members, for further discussion at the next meeting of Council. Such a bylaw would have to be passed 180 days prior to the general election.

The first meeting of 1995 saw Council turn down one and table another of three requests which came before them. Sgt. John Humphrey of Elk Point RCMP visited Council to suggest that the Town fund a non-Aboriginal participant in the RCMP's summer program. Due to cuts, only Aboriginal students can be funded by the RCMP for the program, but they have approved adding non-Aboriginal students, provided that the municipality provide the funding. This adds up to more than $6650 for a 17-week program, and is not something the Town feels they can afford at this time. Council also felt it would be a challenge to find someone from within the community who would be genuinely interested in taking part in such a program.

A request from the Royal Canadian Legion for a letter of support of their application for an $8000 Community Facility Enhancement Grant for the proposed new cenotaph was tabled until Council's next meeting. Mayor Buck is concerned regarding other uses those funds could go toward in the community, including pay-down of debt on other community facilities. "I'm not saying that this isn't a worthwhile project for the Legion, but I want to check with the CFEP people first." Council did approve the Legion's request to allow them to remove trees from the site of the proposed cenotaph, north of the Tourist Information Centre, at the Legion's expense, but turned down a request to install a water line to the site.

The Friends of Fort George - Buckingham House were more successful in their request for a letter of support. Frank Mayner, acting president of the Friends, visited Council to outline the proposed project, which includes additional signage at the fort sites which will, in part, compensate for the decreases in staffing that go along with declining operational grants. The Friends are applying for funds under the Northern Alberta Agreement. Mayor Buck said that "what they're looking at spending this on is what was in the game plan. I don't think this could be used for other things."

Dog fees unchanged

They may have a new dog bylaw, but the Town of Elk Point is not putting an additional bite on pet owners in the form of increased licence fees. Council moved at last Monday's meeting to continue charging $15 per year to licence neutered male dogs and spayed female dogs, and $30 for non-neutered and non-spayed dogs.

five months, serving his own five-month term until municipal elections are held in October.

Speaking to the Journal on Thursday, Danyluk said the task of uniting the four districts — which include the County of Two Hills and the Glen Avon district, as well as St. Paul's county and public boards — will be formidable.

"To have all of these people coming together to form a cooperative effort will be a challenge," he said.

"But we should all focus on a cooperative standpoint, and pay attention to our goal, which is first and foremost the education of the students."

Danyluk said he was "optimistic" the new board — which is actually an interim panel, composed of 10 members and functioning until next October's elections establish a seven-member board — will deal "in a positive way" with the challenges it faces.

One of the biggest of these, he said, is school boards' inability to use local tax requisitions to fund special projects in their districts.

"We now have to work within the department's budget, and are limited to it," he said.

"Previously, if we had a special interest or need, and the board felt extra taxes were warranted, then it could be financed. But that won't be possible anymore."

That fixed budget will also dictate the size of the administration. At the moment, most staff members from the old jurisdictions are employed with the regional division.

"Right now, all of the administration is needed to get the transition done. In six months, we'll evaluate the situation. We're not sure how much money will be available."

Tuesday's meetings, which spanned most of the afternoon and early evening, were devoted mainly to beginning that transition.

The Glen Avon Protestant school district was officially amalgamated with the regional division, following formal consent by the GA board.

Trustees formally appointed Jean Champagne as secretary-treasurer, and passed a motion asking the Education Minister to change the new division's name from the Greater St. Paul Regional Division No. 1 to the St. Paul Education Regional Division No. 1.

Board members were elected to seven committees, including the electoral subdivisions committee. That group, which includes trustees Conrad Richard, George Olynyk, Ed Buck, and Terry LaBoucane, will have to decide where to place electoral boundaries for the six regional subdivisions by March 1.

visions by March 1.

Together, the subdivisions will represent some 16,000 taxpayers, who support either the county of St. Paul schools, St. Paul's Catholic schools, or schools in the County of Two Hills.

The seventh trustee will be elected by Glen Avon school supporters throughout the St. Paul area.

According to superintendent-designate Ted Cabaj, the boundaries committee will begin its deliberations soon.

The next meeting of the interim board is scheduled for Tuesday, January 17.

FGM Support Council meets January 11

The F. G. Miller High School Educational Support Council will meet Wednesday, January 11 at 7 p.m. at the school. Topping the agenda is a panel discussion on the newly announced roles and responsibilities of school support councils.

Elks trample Monarchs 13-4

Elk Point Elks celebrated Ukrainian Christmas, January 7, by trampling Kitscoty Monarchs 13 to 4 in Elk Point. Cory Laboucane led the scoring with four goals while Dwayne Karbshewski added another three and two assists.

Karbshewski started off the scoring, unassisted, just over 6 minutes into the first period. Sheldon Cardinal added another unassisted goal two minutes later. Kitscoty scored their first five seconds after the midpoint of the period, but saw their hopes dwindle as Earl Youngchief, assisted by Karbshewski and Allan Loughran, Tyson Stafford, unassisted, and Rick Austin, assisted by Loughran, brought the Elks to a 5-1 lead by the end of the first 20 minutes.

Cory Laboucane, assisted by Jon Olson and Sheldon Cardinal, and Karbshewski, assisted by Derek Keller, extended the lead to 7-1 before Kitscoty rallied to send in three goals in under two minutes, to end the second period with the Elks leading 7-4.

The final twenty minutes saw a nonstop onslaught by the Elks, as Cory Laboucane scored three goals and Karbshewski, Austin and Stafford added singles. Assists were by Olson, Austin, Stafford and Karbshewski, with two each by Youngchief and Brian Halfe.

Jacques Hebert had great night in the Elks net.

Skate-a-thon raises funds

The A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee likes to put a little 'fun' in their fundraising. That was evident last Thursday evening, when 42 participants ranging in age from just-turned-four to thirtysomething raised over $3400 in Elk Point's first Skate-a-thon in five years.

Betty Callbeck and Lee Johnson were kept busy taking registrations and adding up pledges as entrants crowded in to take part in the various events and challenges.

The Oilfield Challenge was one of the hardest-fought competitions of the event, with the four hardy skaters taking to the ice for their ten minute stint each eager to claim the trophy. Amoco Canada once again fielded the winner, for their fourth victory out of a total of six skate-a-thons. Sue Campbell did the honors for Amoco, raising $254 in pledges. Kendall Zarowny skated for Norcen Energy Resources, the defending champions as winners of the last such event, held in 1989/90 season. Doug Bassett represented B & R and Diane Huffman skated for E-Can Oilfield Services, another one-time winning firm. The two ladies also got a special gift for participating in this category.

Kerry Loughran, who skated in the same time period as the oilfield group, won the trophy for Most Laps with 34 circuits of the arena, breaking a tie between Rocky Pankiw and Jordan Bassett, who each received a gift certificate for their 33-lap efforts. Melanie Johnson and Brett Kopeck were close behind with 32 laps.

The individual skater who raised the most pledges was Dustin Sieben, who collected $350 to win a handsome warmup jacket. Runner-up was little Ryan McDonald, who raised $250 to win a crisp $50 bill.

The Oldest Skater trophy went to Doug Bassett, who wouldn't reveal his exact age, while the Youngest Skater trophy was won by 4-year-old Warren Jurak.

Ian Jurak, Telia Loughran, Jamie Schnurer and Jelayne Pankiw won gift certificates as hard luck skaters who took the worst tumbles.

Jackie Wiffen-Peters won the 50-50 draw, while Ray Danyluk won a huge food hamper.

Low-pain debt repayment

Having a massive debt load sometimes gets an individual, a group or a government down. All they can think about is how to cut back and make themselves or others suffer so they can pay down the debt. It isn't too often that someone comes up with a way to have a good time while they make money to help solve their financial woes, as the A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee did with their Skate-a-thon, and other recent events.

And then there's Premier Ralph Klein. He has let Albertans have a whole lot of fun trying their luck at getting rich with the video lottery terminals, and now he's talking about Las Vegas-style casinos, where even more people would come to enjoy themselves as they pay down the province's debt. Now, it is already clear to all those who run bingos that the VLTs are taking away their patrons and their profits, but think for a minute what those bingo proceeds are designated for. Some of them are to keep libraries in operation. If the Province weren't deep in debt, the government could be a whole lot more generous with library grants, and overworked volunteers wouldn't have to spend their evenings calling back bingo numbers. Other bingos are held to help pay for and operate community halls, arenas and other facilities - which could also be covered by operating grants which a debt-free government would have available.

Casinos have big tourist appeal. Las Vegas is getting strong competition from smaller communities in other states who have jumped on the casino bandwagon. Take, for example, Mahanomen, Minnesota, which has always been just your typical midwest small town. With the building of casinos, it has become a new and exciting place to go and try one's luck, for tourists from across the USA and Canada.

There is no doubt that a lot of the money being spent in Vegas and other spots such as Mahanomen is being spent by Albertans. Wouldn't it be better to keep that money in Alberta and let it pay down the debt (which some of the groups now dismayed at their dwindling bingo proceeds may have contributed to in the past, by accepting grants which a hard-pressed government continued to offer in response to public demand) than to let it go out of province, along with all the money those travellers spend on food, gas, lodging and souvenirs while they're holidaying? It's something to think about.

Looking back at First Night

By Jim MacLellan

Chairman, Elk Point & Region
Interagency Committee

Last November 17, 1993, a small group of 5 people met with Terri Ehlert to help plan Elk Point's participation in the theme of International Year of the Family. The process soon grew to 7 participants by January of last year.

The signing of the proclamation by Mayor Buck and council and their continued support over this year has provided the framework that made 1994 a truly successful Year of the Family.

It wasn't long before more and more people and organizations got involved. The Interagency sub-committee started to encourage workshops and seminars consistent with our theme. We thank the hard work, and the facilitation of Terri Ehlert and the FCSS Board, and Verona Lea Flanders and the Further Education Council for their help in this area.

From the subcommittee level another child was born... that being the First Night Fest Committee. It wasn't long before we saw with great delight 15 or more various organizations involved in the planning for this truly great family event — First Night Fest!

We do thank everyone who has helped develop, encourage and bring about a successful year promoting this theme: The Family. I believe that this concern has brought an unprecedented awareness to the lives of thousands of people just in our region. Thank you. A very special thanks to the following people or organizations which contributed in very tangible ways to the First Night Fest: Amoco Canada Petroleum, Pan Canadian Petroleum, Tarsands Steam Cleaning, Jonathan Adams Professional Corporation, Jorvik Machine Tool and Welding, JSJV Holdings Ltd., Lioness Club, Ron Onusko, Parent Nursery, Jack and Jill Playschool Association, Faye Smith, 2M Resources (High School), Elk Point Hospital, E-Can Oilfield Services, Elk Point Farmers Market, 4-H Multi Club, Elk Point Oilmen's Association, Lions Club, Lutheran Life Branch 0362 (Vermilion), BPOElks Lodge, Town of Elk Point.

Thanks also to all those who participated in the First Night Fest, from the karate demonstration, to the musicians, storytellers, children's presentations... thank you to you all. Thank you to the Seniors Recreation Centre, the Ag Society (A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee and the Fairgrounds Committee), the Curling Club and the Library who opened their facilities to us. Thank you to Rick Peters who made sure that it all happened. Thank you to Vicki Brooker and the staff at the Elk Point Review for covering this theme with such diligence and support. Thank you to YOU for coming and helping us set a pattern for future years.

A special thank you to Tori Warawa, who challenged us and stimulated us to kindness, cooperation and love within our families as she shared her award-winning speech. Happy New Year and may 1995 be a great family year in your home!

Concern over possible RRSP tax changes makes early contribution advisable

By Investors Group Inc.

The annual rush to beat the tax deadline for RRSP contributions takes on a added urgency this year in view of Finance Minister Paul Martin's warning that the 1995 federal budget will be one of the toughest in history.

March 1 is deadline for Canadians to take advantage of 1994 tax deferrals by contributing to their RRSPs - up to $13,500 for those not in a deferred profit sharing or company pension plan, less for those who are.

With concerns being voiced that the government may cut back some tax incentives, financial planners such as Edmonton-based Alan Caplan of Investors Group Inc., recommend that RRSP investments for the 1994 tax year be made before the coming federal budget.

Although the date of the budget has not yet been made public, last year's budget was brought down on February 22. Traditionally, tax changes take effect immediately on issuance of the budget.

"We believe the government would be very ill-advised if it took any step to discourage retirement savings by individual Canadians," Caplan said. "Canadians should save more, not less, if we are to reduce our reliance on government, and RRSPs are the best way of ensuring financial independence for one's retirement," Caplan added.

Nor are the tax advantages of RRSPs confined to those in upper income brackets, Caplan noted. "For a person of average income in the 40% tax bracket, putting even $3000 into an RRSP will result in a tax saving of $1200 (40% of the $3000)."

Canadians have flocked into RRSPs in recent years, taking advantage of a wide range of investment options ranging from low-interest but guaranteed investments to mutual funds which invest in stocks, mortgages and bonds where the return depends on the changing market value of the fund's holdings.

According to Statistics Canada, a total of $19.2 billion was invested in RRSPs in 1992, bringing to $230 billion the total amount Canadians have put aside on a tax-deferred basis for their retirement.

About $30 to $40 billion of this amount has been entrusted to mutual funds, according to industry observers.

For Canadians who opt to use their RRSPs to invest in mutual funds offered by companies such as Investors Group, Mr. Caplan stresses the value of obtaining professional advice on their overall savings strategy, as well as on individual investments.

"Most mutual funds have a good track record of appreciating in value," he said. "It's also important to have a savings strategy that reflects one's age, family responsibilities, retirement aims, and general lifestyle."

Mr. Caplan noted that while younger investors can afford to be more speculative in their investment selections, a conservative approach is generally best for people nearing retirement.

"Other factors also need to be considered in choosing an RRSP investment," Mr. Caplan added. Two examples are choosing whether to include foreign stocks, which often

What's News at the Library

By Michele Duczek

Librarian

A lot of people have already renewed their library memberships for 1995. Elk Point Public Library memberships expire on December 31 of the year they were purchased. This is expected to change when the board votes to change the bylaw so that memberships will be good for one full year following purchase or from time of renewal, whichever is the later date. As I wrote last week, the membership fees are as follows:

Resident: Family $15, Individual $10, Senior $5, Child $5.
Non-resident: Family $63,

Individual $34, Senior $17, Child $17.

Some people are confused by the two different rates and the difference between a resident and non-resident. Non-resident fees were instituted by the Northern Lights Library System in January 1994 and are set by the Northern Lights Library Board. A non-resident is a person who does not live in a county, municipality or MD that belongs to the Northern Lights Library System.

In the case of Elk Point, the town belongs to the system and pays an annual levy. The County of St. Paul and the County of Vermilion River are not members of the system and pay no levy. In order to pay for services that Northern Lights provides for people living in these counties, and other areas in the regions which are not members, the system is charging an annual fee. Member libraries collect this fee and submit it to Northern Lights.

The library also pays a levy. Some of this is returned directly to the library as an allotment for ordering materials (books, etc.). Some of the non-resident fees I collected in 1994 were returned to me as additional funds in my allotments. Northern Lights also provides reference and interlibrary loan service through the resource library in Lloydminster, among other services.

I hope this has cleared up any confusion that you may have concerning library fees for 1995. Given the rising cost of books, magazine subscriptions and movies, library membership is an economical way to satisfy your entertainment and information needs. Stop by for your 1995 membership today.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:

Friday mornings - 10:30 a.m. - Storytime. Come out for stories, crafts and more.

Tuesday, January 17, 1995 - 7:00 p.m. - Elk Point Public Library's Annual General Meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

Concern over tax changes

show faster growth than Canadian equities, and when to elect to put money into a spousal RRSP.

"Now that one can invest up to 20% of an RRSP in foreign stocks, more of our clients are asking about our European, Japanese and Asian growth funds," Caplan said.

"Wage-earners also can benefit by using spousal RRSPs to split their retirement income," he said. "The contributor gets the full benefit of the tax deduction now, and the tax the spouse pays after retirement will reflect their income at that time, which will likely be lower than the one who contributed to the RRSP." Mr. Caplan cites these examples of how financial planning from companies such as Investors Group can assist buyers of RRSPs to make the best decisions in preparing for retirement.

"Financial planning is something that people of any age and any income can benefit from. It means making the best use of our resources, and sound advice can be obtained from any qualified financial planner."

Judging from responses to the annual survey by Investors Group of the financial attitudes of Canadians, many who do not now have RRSPs plan to start one in 1995. While 48% of those surveyed said they already have an RRSP, another 23% said they hope to start one this year.

The 1994 survey also revealed that 64% plan to rely on government pensions for the bulk of their future retirement income.

"In view of the deficit crisis, anyone who expects to rely on government support in their old age may be in for a big disappointment," Caplan said. "Even a modest annual contribution to an RRSP can make an immense difference in retirement income."

Elks edge Dewberry 5-4

Elk Point Elks weren't in enough of a Christmas mood on Friday, December 23 to give up a win when Dewberry Mustangs rode into town. Instead, they overtook the visitor's first period lead with a four-goal-to-two second period and answered Dewberry's lone third period marker for a final score of 5 to 4 in the Elks' favor.

Jerry Pottle's unassisted goal with 7:21 on the clock was the only goal in a hard played first period, and was scored on a power play to give Dewberry the first mark on the score board.

Jon Olson scored two in the second period for the Elks, the first, off assists by Allan Loughran and Rick Austin, another power play which tied things up just over two minutes into the second period. Pottle scored another unassisted power play to bring Dewberry back into the lead, with Blair Hanna adding a goal assisted by Pottle and Carmen Blacklock to give them a two goal lead. One of the Elk Point players, who no doubt prefers to remain anonymous, also appeared to have a hand in that goal. Olson's second of the evening, assisted by Billy Halfe and Sheldon Cardinal, and one by Blair Halfe, assisted by Olson and Cardinal, brought the teams back to even by the 7:30 mark. Dwayne Karbashewski, assisted by Blair Halfe and Billy Halfe, brought the Elks into the lead with 1:23 to go in the period.

The Elks held the lead for more than 14 minutes of the final period, until Dewberry's Alan Parr scored off an assist by Ken Lawrence to tie things up again. Dwayne Karbshewski, assisted by Rick Austin and Billy Halfe answered for the Elks two minutes later to bring the game to a final score of 5-4.

IN MEMORIAM

John Bodnar

It's been six years since you left us. We, your family, miss you lots, and will never forget the happiness you brought to our lives, and the memories you have given us.

The sudden way you had to leave We shall always remember and wonder why

To know we never said goodbye
The things we feel so deeply
Are the hardest things to say;
But we, your family, love you.
In a very special way
They say that memories are golden:

Well that may be true
But we never wanted memories
We only wanted you.
If tears could build a stairway,
and heartaches make a lane,
We as your family,
Would walk the path to heaven
And bring you home again.

Sadly missed — Love Mom & Alex and Family.

OBITUARY

LUKEVICH, John

On January 6, 1995 Mr. John Lukevich of Elk Point passed away peacefully at the age of 55 years. Elks lose 6-3 to Pontiacs

Elk Point Elks lost a 6-3 decision to Bonnyville Pontiacs on December 30 in what was described as "a very chippy game."

Bonnyville was up three goals by the time Elk Point hit the scoreboard late in the first period. Bobby Houle made the goal off assists by Blair Halfe and Rick Austin.

Bonnyville added two more in the second period, while the Elks waited until the beginning of the third for their second goal, by Allan Loughran, assisted by Derek Keller and Dwayne Karbashewski. Karbashewski scored the Elks' third goal, after a sixth and final goal by the Pontiacs, with his assists coming from Kerry Loughran and Mike Boratynec.

Boxing Day Barrels and Roping Jackpot

By Charlene Baker

Fairgrounds Committee

Christmas came twice for Quinn Darichuk of Pierceland, Saskatchewan, this year, when his name was drawn on Boxing Day from 2000 tickets for the grand prize of 12 bred heifers or $14,400 in cash. The ticket was bought for a stocking stuffer by Quinn's wife Mary, and was sold out of a book of Daphne Schnurer's, who won $100 for selling the winning ticket. The three $200 draws were won by Tod Naurot of Grande Prairie, Hilda and Henry Stasiuk of Viking and Marshall Moroziuk of Elk Point.

The draws were made at the Elk Point Agricultural Society's Fairgrounds and Livestock Division's Annual Boxing Day Jackpot. The weather cooperated and the place was packed. There was a fun Barrel Jackpot for peewees and an Open, run on a 2-tier basis. The winners were:

PeeweEs: 1. Laura Lilje, 2. Tara Campbell, 3. Lisa Lilje, 4. Rylee McKenzie.

Open Barrels - 1st Tier: 1. Kathy Stone, 2. Pam Veer. 2nd Tier: 1. Chris Shankowski, 2. Sherry Rarick.

There were 5 calf ropers and 47 teams of Team Ropers. The winners were: Calf Roping: 1. Matt Veer, 2. Larry Lorenson. Team Roping Novice: 1. Bruce Etherington, Jeremy Heraid, 2. George Pinder, Kelly Ronald, 3. George Pinder, James Pinder. Team Roping Open: 1. Ken Dunlop, Audy Sen, 2. Corey Dunlop, Doug Phipps, 3. Peter Veer, Kyle Sen, 4. Bill Phipps, Doug Phipps.

There was a complimentary chili dinner and snacks, which everyone enjoyed. Thanks to all the volunteer help that made the day such a success and a special thanks to all those who supported our Mini Rancher Heifer Raffle!
